Global Ecology and Biogeography Letters

Volume 1, Number 1, January 1991

1 Philip Stott: Editorial

Ecological Soundings

2 D. M. J. S. Bowman: Guest Editorial: How short do you cut the string? Biogeography, development and conservation in northern Australia

5 Philip Stott: A Biogeographical Short Story: The orchid

Research Letters

7 F. I. Woodward and L. Rochefort: Sensitivity analysis of vegetation diversity to environmental change

24 A. A. Myers: How did Hawaii accumulate its biota? A test from the Amphipoda

News Letter

30 Important savanna workshop held at Harvard Forest

Library Letters

31 Carbon dioxide and global change: Earth in transition (reviewed by M. B. Jones)

32 Natural areas facing climatic change (reviewed by Keith Barber)

Volume 1, Number 2, March 1991

Ecological Soundings

33 Justine E. Dunn: Why can't we see the indigenous wood for the exotic trees?

Research Letters

36 W. Mann, P. Dorn and R. Brandl: Local distribution of amphibians: the importance of habitat fragmentation

42 Jonathan Rigg: Thailand's Nam Choan Dam project: a case study in the 'greening' of South-East Asia

News Letter

55 MALCOLM GRANT: A tree-ring chronology for South Asia

Library Letters

56 Acidic precipitation. Volume 2. Biological and ecological effects (reviewed by John L. Innes)

57 Acidic precipitation. Volume 4. Soils, aquatic processes and lake acidification (reviewed by F. Oldfield)

58 Remote sensing of soils and vegetation in the USSR (reviewed by Kevin White)

59 The control of eutrophication of lakes and reservoirs (reviewed by Sarah E. Metcalfe)

60 Bracken toxicity and carcinogenicity as related to animal and human health (reviewed by Richard T. Smith)

61 Ecology and land management in Amazonia (reviewed by Mark B. Bush)

63 Palaeolimnology and lake acidification (reviewed by Sarah E. Metcalfe)

64 Global forest resources (reviewed by T. C. Whitmore)

Volume 1, Number 3, May 1991

Ecological Soundings

65 T. J. FORSYTH: Tourism: problem or solution to the Himalayan crisis?

Research Letters

69 JORGE MEAVE, MARTIN KELLMAN, ANDREW MACDOUGALL and JUDITH ROSALES: Riparian habitats as tropical forest refugia

77 PETER A. PARSONS: Biodiversity conservation under global climatic change: the insect Drosophila as a biological indicator?

84 J. BASTOW WILSON: A comparison of biogeographic models: migration, vicariance and panbiogeography

News Letter

88 EARTHWATCH: Research grants available

Library Letters

89 The greenhouse effect and terrestrial ecosystems of the U.K. (reviewed by H. F. Lamb)

90 Acidic precipitation. Volume 3. Sources, deposition and canopy interactions (reviewed by Ian Grieve)

91 Maintenance of the biosphere (reviewed by Norman Myers)

92 Exploiting the tropical rain forest: an account of pulpwood logging in Papua New Guinea (reviewed by Robert Johns)

93 Conservation and development in Irian Jaya: a strategy for rational resource utilization (reviewed by Robert Johns)

94 Living in a lean-to: Philippine Negrito foragers in transition (reviewed by J. Clare Hall)

94 Bracken biology and management (reviewed by Steve Compton)

95 Spartina anglica – a research review (reviewed by H. W. Woolhouse)

96 Expedition yearbook 1989 (reviewed by Robert J. Whittaker)

Volume 1, Number 4, July 1991

Ecological Soundings

97 ROBIN PELLEW: Gulf Requiem

99 PHILIP STOTT: A Biogeographical Short Story: Harvard Forest

Research Letters

102 IAN MOFFATT: Possible ecological impacts of the greenhouse effect on the Northern Territory, Australia

108 P. A. WALKER and K. D. COCKS: HABITAT: a procedure for modelling a disjoint environmental envelope for a plant or animal species

News Letter

119 J. ROSE: Summary of research in British University and Polytechnic geography departments on aspects of global environmental change

Library Letter

128 Australian tropical rainforests: science – values – meaning (reviewed by David Bowman)

Volume 1, Number 5, September 1991

Research Letters

129 I. COLIN PRENTICE, MARTIN T. SYKES and WOLFGANG CRAMER: The possible dynamic response of northern forests to global warming

136 D. J. BEERLING, W. G. CHALONER, B. HUNTLEY, A. PEARSON and M. J. TOOLEY: Tracking stomatal densities through a glacial cycle: their significance for predicting the response of plants to changing atmospheric CO_2 concentrations

143 CONRADIN A. BURGA: Vegetation history and palaeoclimatology of the Middle Holocene: pollen analysis of alpine peat bog sediments, covered formerly by the Rutor Glacier, 2510 m (Aosta Valley, Italy)

151 RICHARD MOLES and JOHN BREEN: Surveillance of recent vegetation change in the Burren, County Clare, Republic of Ireland

News Letter

157 R. A. LUBKE and A. M. AVIS: Videos on the coastal environment in South Africa

Library Letters

159 Vegetation and erosion: processes and environments (reviewed by Barbara A. Kennedy)

160 Environmental modelling for developing countries (reviewed by Brian Lees)

Volume 1, Number 6, November 1991

Ecological Soundings

161 JOHN G. U. ADAMS: On being economical with the environment

164 RAYMOND L. BRYANT: Putting politics first: the political ecology of sustainable development

167 PHILIP & ANNE STOTT: A Biogeographical Short Story: The Legend

Research Letters

170 P. A. WOLSELEY and B. AGUIRRE-HUDSON: Lichens as indicators of environmental change in the tropical forests of Thailand

176 SUSAN RINGROSE and WILMA MATHESON: Characterization of woody vegetation cover in the south-east Botswana Kalahari

Library Letters

182 The conservation atlas of tropical forests: Asia and the Pacific (reviewed by R. J. Whittaker)

183 Monitoring for conservation and ecology (reviewed by John P. Barkham)

184 Remote sensing of the Sahelian environment: a review of the current status and future prospects (reviewed by Kevin White)

185 Biological invasions in Europe and the Mediterranean Basin (reviewed by Mark Williamson)

186 Global environmental change (reviewed by F. M. Chambers)

188 Nature reserves: island theory and conservation practice (reviewed by Michael B. Usher)

189 Wild ice: Antarctic journeys (reviewed by Ken Richard)

190 Evolutionary trends (reviewed by P. D. Taylor)

190 The biosphere (reviewed by K. Crabtree)

192 Forschungen auf Ceylon. III (reviewed by J. G. Goldammer)
